INTRODUCTION

As part of its Tourism Research program, the Hawai'i Tourism Authority (HTA) maintains a listing of all properties and units available for visitor accommodations in the State of Hawai'i. This report presents the results of the Visitor Plant Inventory (VPI) update project for 2012. It provides data on the number of visitor units, property types, and room class for the State of Hawai'i and each of our six major islands, with comparisons to the three prior years.

The VPI was first published by the Hawai'i Visitors and Convention Bureau (HVCB) in 1964 and has been updated periodically since that time. HVCB did not conduct a survey in 1995 and did not publish hard copies of the report in 1998. The Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT) published VPI reports annually from 1999 through 2008. HTA has been responsible for annual updates since 2009.

Methods for updating the VPI are focused on a review of the previous year's inventory, surveys of visitor industry agencies to identify new properties, Internet searches for new properties, and all have been used to optimize the potential list of properties available to visitors to Hawai'i. Representatives of each property identified are then surveyed to establish whether the surveyed entity is available to short-term visitors; and if so, to gather number of units, types of units, class of units, and other useful information. For further details, see the Methods section in the appendix to this report.

As in previous reports, island and district names were written in proper Hawaiian language orthography. However, individual property names were not written in the same manner unless the words were easily identifiable (i.e., island names).

The 2012 Visitor Plant Inventory report is posted on the HTA website: www.hawaiitourismauthority.org/research/reports/visitor-plant-inventory/. The 2012 Visitor Plant Inventory report was produced by SMS Research & Marketing Services, Inc. (SMS) for the Hawai'i Tourism Authority.

PREFACE

In recent years, the relatively steady increase in the size of Hawai'i's visitor plant has fluctuated to some extent. The inventory rose in 2009, fell in 2010, rose sharply in 2011, and fell again in 2012. In the past, deviations from the general trend were clearly the result of significant changes in the stock of hotel and condo units dedicated to visitor use. Since 2006, changes in the inventory reflect changes in the composition of the visitor plant. Hotel units have remained relatively stable and other unit types have contributed more to the rise and fall of total unit counts. First timeshare units and later Individual Visitor Units (IVU) rose quickly. But increases in IVUs do not always require new construction. Conversions add units to one category and subtract units from another<sup>1</sup> and may not produce a rise in total inventory.

In 2012, several factors may have contributed to changes in the Visitor Plant Inventory. To begin, the visitor plant has changed rapidly in the last several years. In 1964, the VPI was a list of hotel units in resort areas. For the next 40 years the types of units in the inventory changed very little. As late as 2003, only six unit types were listed and 95 percent of all units were either hotel or condominium hotel rooms. In 2006, there were six unit types listed, and more than 20 percent of the inventory was either timeshare units or IVUs. By 2011, expanding IVU subtypes added four more unit types and the sum of IVU and timeshare units accounted for 27 percent of the inventory. Many individual properties have multiple unit types for the same property title. Furthermore, in 1964, a hotel usually had one operator and one person to contact for the update survey. In 2012, there were as many as 15 "sub properties" for a single property, each with one or more operators. Finally, with the quickening of processes in the modern world, many units change status, type, operator, and contacts frequently - even several times a year. This increased complexity may result in a systematic decrease in VPI counts in 2012.

It is very difficult to estimate the number of IVU accurately. There is little doubt, however, that there are more of them<sup>2</sup>. In 2006 there were fewer than 2,400 IVUs in the VPI. By 2011 that number rose to 10,620, an increase of 400 percent in five years.

First, they are more difficult to locate. Units are often found without addresses and owners use agents to handle bookings. Second, some IVU owners would rather remain anonymous. Some may want to avoid calls and visits from potential renters. Others are operating IVUs without the proper paperwork. Third, rather than representing themselves, IVU owners/managers of houses, condominium units, apartments and rooms, can be represented by their condo or condo hotel management, an AOA, a commercial property manager hired by themselves, or a commercial property manager hired by a building manager. Those who manage their own units often do so through an online vacation rental marketplace website. Differentially low response rates among IVU owners and managers are particularly problematic for an inventory project. VPI definitions and procedures are designed to produce an accurate list of units. It may not produce the best estimate of the total number of potential visitor units in Hawai'i. For an inventory, data must be accurate and confirmed. Current procedures to ensure comparability of data permit new unit data to be recorded only if confirmed in the survey. New property codes are added only if an address is available. A unit that is described in detail on an online vacation rental website, with multiple pictures of the property, rental prices and booking methods on the page, and renter ratings for the last six months, cannot be entered to the inventory unless <sup>2</sup> The proliferation of IVUs may be related to an increase in demand for visitor accommodations that has been unmet by an increase in the supply of new hotel and condo hotel units. Visitor arrivals are up 6.9 percent between 2008 and 2011 and the sum of hotel and condo hotel units measured in VPI was down 5.9 percent for the same period. An increase in room rates over the last three years, coupled with a stagnant residential real estate market would provide ample incentive for property owners to convert their units to IVUs and for investors to enter the local housing market.

verified through a survey. The address of the property is not on the website nor is the owner's telephone number or email address. Therefore a survey cannot be distributed and the data cannot be confirmed.

The 2012 Visitor Plant Inventory reports a drop in total inventory amounting to 3,081 units since 2011. Figure M-1 shows unit type trends for the last nine years.

Source: Visitor Plant Inventory, 2004-2012.

Most of that is accounted for by changes to the IVU and condo hotel counts. The finding is consistent with the foregoing discussion of the VPI study experience in 2012. Decreases in condo hotel counts may have occurred as a result of conversion to IVUs. Decreases in IVUs may have occurred as a result of increasing difficulty in confirming IVU status. Difficulty in confirming IVU status was caused by the proliferation of IVUs, the practice of managing units through online vacation rental websites, delays in issuing non-conforming use certificates (NCUs), and other factors.

Ultimately, the evidence suggests that there are many more IVUs across the State that are not currently in the VPI, and current procedures preclude including these properties in the inventory. The complexity and changes in stock will require review of data collection procedures in 2013. The situation within the IVU segment may require new methods for 2013.

OVERVIEW

State of Hawai'i

In 2012, the total State of Hawai'i visitor plant inventory consisted of 74,650 visitor units, which is nearly 4 percent lower than the number of visitor units confirmed in the previous year. As stated in the introduction, much of the decline was attributable to large losses in the number of confirmed IVUs (especially on the island of Kaua'i) and condo-hotel units.

Figure 1 demonstrates that just under half (47%) of the total number of visitor units in the State of Hawai'i were located on the island of O'ahu, followed by Maui (26%) and Hawai'i Island (14%). As was the case in 2011, Moloka'i and Lāna'i had the fewest lodging units.

Hotel units (58%) once again comprised the bulk of total units across the state. Condo hotel units (16%) and timeshares (13%) accounted for the next largest groups of units, accounting for less than half the number of hotel units. The 2012 inventory showed a significant increase in the number of apartment-hotel units, while the greatest drop was found in the number of confirmed IVUs [Figure 2].

The largest number of properties was found on the islands of Kaua'i (559), followed by Hawai'i (488), O'ahu (366), and Maui (336). These figures document considerable change from the 2011 visitor plant inventory, including declines in the number of properties on Moloka'i (-10), Maui (-168) and Kaua'i (-103), and a sizeable increase in the number of properties on O'ahu (+79) [Figure 3].

The numbers of properties by unit type were consistent with previous years in that the largest share (67%) was IVUs. On the other hand, the 2012 inventory documents a decrease of approximately 198 IVUs and 13 timeshare properties from the previous year [Figure 4].

The 2012 distribution of units by price class was consistent with data from the previous two years. Deluxe units accounted for almost 38 percent of all units, followed by standard units (30%), luxury units (25%), and budget units (7%) [Figure 5].

Inventory by Island

Hawai'i Island

The number of confirmed visitor units on Hawai'i Island dropped nearly 3 percentage points from 2011 to 2012 continuing a trend that was established in 2009. The bulk of the decrease was a result of reductions in the number of IVUs, condo hotels, and timeshare units across the island.

- Hotels accounted for the greatest number of visitor units (6,785), and the third largest property type (32).
- As was the case in 2011, despite a lower number of IVUs, the number of IVU properties increased for Hawai'i Island. Likewise, the number of condo hotel units dropped and the number of condo hotel properties increased.
- Data on the distribution of units by price class demonstrated a trend over the last four years: deluxe class units have become more prominent at the expense of luxury class units; standard and budget units still comprise about 40 percent of all units.

Kaua'i

The count of confirmed units on Kaua'i in the 2012 inventory was 8,289, which represented a decline from the previous year by about 16 percent.

- The decline in the inventory was largely due to a 56 percent decrease in the number of IVUs and a 2 percent drop in the number of timeshare units.
- Likewise, the number of IVU properties declined 17 percent, from 571 in 2011 to 472 in 2012, and the number of timeshare properties dropped 13 percent from 23 to 20.
- The largest percentage of Kaua'i's units remained in the deluxe price class (41%), followed by the standard class (26%), luxury class (25%), and budget class (8%).

Maui

The number of confirmed units on Maui declined 6 percent, from 20,917 in 2011 to 19,659 in 2012. The data were similar to data for Kaua'i in that a large portion of the drop was due to a decrease in the number of confirmed IVUs.

- The number of confirmed IVUs dropped from 5,457 in 2011 to 3,896 in 2012, a decrease of nearly 29 percent. The number of confirmed timeshare units decreased nearly 4 percent. On the other hand, the number of condo hotel units increased by about 7 percent.
- The number of IVU properties dropped by 47 percent from 2011. The number of timeshare properties decreased by 23 percent.
- The distribution of units by price class demonstrates over-time decreases in the number of deluxe and standard units and an increase in the percentage of luxury units. In 2012, approximately 48 percent of units were classified as luxury, approximately 48 percent of units were classified as either deluxe or standard, and 4 percent were classified as budget.

Moloka'i

Moloka'i experienced a decline in the number of units from 2011 to 2012. The reduction was greatest in the number of IVU properties and units.

- The 2012 inventory included an additional 14 apartment-hotel units; however, the inventory demonstrates a decline of 5 B&B units, 1 condo hotel unit, 7 timeshares and 47 IVUs.
- The 2012 inventory included 2 apartment-hotel properties and a loss of 1 B&B, 10 IVUs, and 1 timeshare.
- The distribution of units by price class demonstrated that the largest percentage of units fell into the standard price class, which was up by 23 percentage points from 2011. The largest decline from the previous year is found among the budget class, in which just over 5 percent of units were classified. Moloka'i's inventory included luxury and deluxe units, which comprised just over 6 percent of all units.

Lānaʻi

The number of confirmed units on Lānaʻi remained constant from the previous year at 353 units.

- Hotels comprised virtually all of the island's units and accounted for almost all the properties.
- The number of units and property types changed slightly from the previous year. The totals remained the same for both units and properties; however, 4 units that were classified as B&B in 2011 were classified as IVU in 2012.
- Almost all of the units fell into the luxury or deluxe price class.

O'ahu

The number of visitor units on O'ahu rose from 35,001 in 2011 to 35,126 in 2012, an increase of 0.4 percent. The number of units associated with B&Bs, hostels, and hotels remained constant and units associated with apartment-hotels, condo hotels, IVUs, timeshares, and "other" units fluctuated considerably from 2011 to 2012.

- The inventory reflected a 67 percent increase in the number of IVUs, an 8 percent increase in the number of timeshares, and a 10 percent decrease in the number of condo hotel units.
- The number of properties remained nearly the same with the exception of increases among apartment-hotels and IVUs, and a decrease in timeshares and "other" properties. The total number of properties increased from 287 to 366 as a result of large increases in the number of apartment-hotel and IVU properties. The number of condo hotel properties remained the same while a number of condo hotel units decreased by 527 units. We attribute this decrease to a reclassification of condo hotel units to IVU and timeshare units.

- O'ahu's inventory by price class was nearly identical to the distribution found in the 2011 inventory. Deluxe units accounted for 41 percent of units, standard units accounted for 34 percent of all units, luxury units accounted for 19 percent of all units, and budget units accounted for 7 percent of all units.

Inventory by Type

Hotels

Hotels comprised the largest percentage of visitor units in the State, and O’ahu continued to provide the bulk of these units (61%). The islands of Hawai’i and Maui added 2 hotel properties each and the island of Kaua’i added a single hotel property in 2012.

Condominium Hotels

The number of confirmed condo hotel properties increased from the prior year and at the same time the number of overall units decreased. As was the case in 2011, the decrease was due in large part by lower participation in managed rental pools and the reclassification of units from condo hotels to IVUs.

Timeshares

The number of timeshare-classified properties and units dropped from 2011 to 2012, principally on Kaua'i, Hawai'i Island, and Maui. The largest number of timeshare units was listed on Maui again this year and O'ahu demonstrated additional growth in timeshares from 2011 to 2012.

Individual Vacation Units

IVUs remained the most volatile of the unit types in the inventory. The number of confirmed units in 2012 dropped 29 percent, from 10,620 in 2011 to 7,567 in 2012. The proliferation of IVUs over time created issues with verification, which in turn accounted for dramatic decreases over the past year. Our analysis of the Kaua'i data suggested that the number of actual IVUs has increased, but at the same time the number of confirmed units declined due to less documentation and reclassification.

Bed & Breakfasts

B&B properties and units declined from 2011 to 2012, due in part to reductions on Hawai'i Island, Kaua'i, and Maui. Hawai'i Island continued to have the largest percentage of both B&B properties and units.

Apartment/Hotels

The number of units and properties classified as apartment-hotels increased dramatically from 2011 to 2012. With the exception of Kaua'i and Lāna'i, all islands had greater number of units confirmed as apartment-hotels than in previous years. The majority of units were again located on O'ahu, and the 2012 inventory demonstrates a large increase on Hawai'i Island as well.

Hostels

Data collection for the 2012 VPI confirmed that there were only 10 hostels that provided 260 units across the State. The inventory shed just under 50 hostel units from 2011 to 2012. Approximately 83 percent of hostel units were located on the island of O’ahu.

Other

The number of “other” units increased 11 percent, from 410 in 2011 to 457 in 2012. The growth was a result of the reclassification of properties on Hawai'i Island, Kaua'i, and O’ahu. In fact, Hawai'i Island and Kaua'i experienced significant growth while O’ahu experienced significant decline in the number of units classified under this label.

APPENDIX

Appendix A: Visitor Plant Inventory Tables

Appendix A is a set of eight tabulations taken from the Hawai'i Visitor Plant Inventory as of May 1, 2012. Table 1 presents an annual listing of inventory counts from 1965 to 2012. Tables 2 through 8 present inventory data for 2012 according to formats that exactly match inventory tables in past years. The tables include: inventory by island and property type, inventory by island and unit type, inventory by area and property type, inventory by area and unit type, price class of units by island, price class of units by type, and timeshare properties by island and area.

Appendix B: Planned Additions to Visitor Plant Inventory, 2012 - 2013

The tables that follow present the best estimate of the number of visitor plant units that were under construction, obtained the necessary permits, or are currently pending by County planning departments in 2012.

Data for Hawai'i County are the estimates from 2011 as 2012 data was unavailable (Table 9). Kaua'i County reported data for 2012, however, it was data for existing transient vacation rentals (TVR) and therefore data from 2011 was reported (Table 10). The Maui County data reported is for 2012 (Table 11). Honolulu County provided by the City & County of Honolulu (Table 12).

Table 13 reports the units that are no longer considered as visitor accommodations as of 2012, including the location and number of units that were removed from the inventory.

Appendix C: Definitions

A property may include more than one type of unit. Property type is the unit type with the highest count at that property. Unit and property types are:

Apartment / Hotel (Apt/Hotel): Inexpensive units (usually in a low-rise building) equipped with kitchens and geared for long-term rentals. Front desk operations and maid service are usually limited and sometimes non-existent.

Bed & Breakfast (B&B): A lodging facility with a limited number of guest units, which include breakfast in the daily rental rate. Typical bed and breakfast facilities are either small, quaint inns, or family homes.

Condominium Hotel (Condo Hotel): A multi-unit property legal classified as a condominium with each unit individually deeded. Generally, units are collectively placed into transient hotel rental operations, offering most of the services of a hotel, such as daily maid service and front desk operations. Condominium units are usually larger than hotel units and include studios and one- to three-bedroom units, with kitchen and laundry facilities, geared for transient use of 30 days or less.

Hotel: A multi-unit lodging facility which provides room accommodations on a daily basis and generally, but not always, restaurant operations and other “away from home” services such as daily maid service and front desk operations. Includes condominiums if a single owner owns all units and the property is operated as defined here.

Hostels: An inexpensive, limited service facility, often with dormitory-style accommodations, appealing primarily to younger travelers.

Individual Vacation Unit (IVU): An individual vacation unit can be classified as an IVU-condominium unit (not in a hotel rental operation), and IVU-house, villa, or cottage with very limited service, often with only basic cleaning supplies provided, or an IVU-cabin unit.

They can also be reported as unclassified and are listed as an individual vacation unit.

Timeshare: A timeshare is a kind of property ownership that allows guests to acquire a percentage of interest in a hotel unit, condominium/hotel, bed and breakfast, individual vacation home, etc. For a specific period of time on a recurring basis. This share could be one week per year (i.e. 1/52 share) or more; some resorts offering one week every other year (1/104 share) or four weeks per year (1/13 share).

The survey questionnaire asks for information on the number of units registered as timeshare and units operated as timeshare. The number of units registered includes those that are available for sale as well as those currently in use by visitors. The number of units operated represents the units that have been sold and are used.

Other: Includes residential condominium units, timeshare units, motels, lodges, inns, or any other form of property not included in the above definitions.

Class of Unit: The Visitor Plant Inventory survey also included questions about the class of units at each property. The subsequent tables showed the percent of each class of units available by island. Units were classified as follows:

Class Price Range / Rack Rate

Budget .....	Up to $100 per night
Standard .....	$101 to $250 per night
Deluxe .....	$251 to $500 per night
Luxury .....	Over $500 per night

Appendix D: Methods

The 2012 Visitor Plant Inventory presents the results of HTA's enumeration of visitor accommodations in Hawai'i. The data was collected from September 2012 through January 2013, and thus reflects inventories for each property at the time of contact.

Visitor Plant Inventory Survey: Information about transient accommodations was gathered mainly from a survey of existing visitor accommodation properties and management companies. Survey forms were sent to general managers, property managers and other individuals who could provide information about the property. The survey provided information about available units, planned additions and other information presented in this report.

Survey forms were distributed to all properties that participated in the prior year's survey and additional properties identified through the association survey (below) and internet research. Over 2,200 properties were identified as part of a detailed web search using pertinent key word phrases, such as "Vacation Units In Hawaii," "Hawaii B&B," "Hawaii Hostels," etc. As was the case for the 2011 VPI, this search was expanded to include additional research related to private homes which may be available for transient rental, especially those located in resort residential areas.

Survey forms were distributed via mail, email, and fax. If no response was received, follow-up telephone calls, emails, and/or faxes were made to the property to remind them to complete and return the form. Subsequently, if no response was received after the follow-ups, an Internet search was conducted to determine if the property was still in business and telephone calls were made to verify unit counts and types. If no response was received or no data was found on the Internet, but information was available from prior years, that information was included and so noted. If no response was received from a property and information was available from the association survey, such information was included and so noted. If no survey form was returned and no information was available from previous years or other sources, the property was listed as a non-respondent.

of associations whose members were transient visitor accommodations in the State of Hawai'i. Letters were sent to these associations to request member accommodation contact information, from which the mailing list was updated and new accommodations were contacted via mailing as described above.

Timeshare Properties: Information on timeshare properties were gathered through the survey questionnaire, which asked for information on the number of units registered as timeshare and units operated as timeshare. The number of units registered included those that were available for sale in a timeshare program (as well as those already sold in such a program). The number of units operated represented the units that were in use. Certain timeshare properties have the ability to split a given registered timeshare unit into more than one operated visitor unit (i.e. it may be possible for a two-bedroom unit to be rented as two keys: one studio unit and one 1-bedroom unit).

The listing of timeshare inventory presented in Table 8 has been re-stated with registered units representing the number of units that were available to be sold as part of a timeshare program and operated units were defined as number of salable keys that were operated for visitor use. In some cases, the number of operating units exceed the number of registered units for a given timeshare property.

The available timeshare units listed in Tables 3 and 5 and their related charts were the total number of operated units. The number of timeshare properties listed in Tables 2 and 4 were the properties with the majority of units classified as timeshare. However, the number of available units listed with the timeshare category included those units that were cross-listed under the other property types. The 2012 current Visitor Plant Inventory details the unit types available at each property.

Starting with the 2009 VPI, certain timeshare operators reported their inventory counts in terms of individual guest rooms (keys) rather than timeshare units previously reported. For example, a two-bedroom timeshare unit may, depending configuration, be rented separately as two guest rooms: a one-bedroom unit and as a studio unit. This change in reporting procedure resulted in a higher inventory count for certain timeshare properties, but did not necessarily reflect a change in the physical plant.

Cross Verification of Data: Where applicable, cross-verification was attempted against data received from the four counties, including real property classifications, bed and breakfast license data, and transient vacation unit (TVU) license data.

As of September 2010, Maui County Code 3.48.305 section C, recently amended by ordinance No. 3766, requires condominium associations to file an annual report to the Real Property Tax division declaring the actual use of all units within their project, before December 1 of each calendar year. Units are to be identified as apartment, commercial, home owner, hotel/resort, and timeshare. This data was used in the estimation of overall timeshare and IVU-condo units for a given project.

Unit Type Classification: Each unit reported in the survey was assigned a unit type based on HTA's type definitions (found in Appendix E). For the purposes of classification, a given property may include more than one unit type. Historically, type classifications were self-selected by the respondent but research has shown that the response was not always consistent with HTA's type definitions. In such cases, the unit type was corrected for the 2012 VPI report.

Notably, many respondents classified their units as condominium hotel due to the units' location within a condominium building, but did not have the services or amenities included in HTA's definition for a condominium hotel. These units were reclassified as individual vacation units.

Property Type Classification: Classification of property type (Tables 2 & 4) for properties with more than one unit type was determined by the majority of units on that property. Historically property type was self-selected by the respondent but research has shown that the response was not always consistent with HTA's type definitions.

Planned New Developments: Information about planned new developments was gathered with assistance from the four county Planning Offices. The information was reprinted here and includes projects and developments that have achieved some level of jurisdictional approval. That was to say, these developments were a step beyond the preliminary stages of development and have some "official" standing as planned developments.

Condominium Hotel	A multi-unit property legally classified as a condominium with each unit individually deeded. Generally, units are collectively placed into transient hotel rental operations, offering most of the services of a hotel, such as daily maid service and front desk operations. Condominium units are usually larger than hotel units and include studios and one- to three-bedroom units, with kitchen and laundry facilities, geared for transient use of 30 days or less.
Hotel	A multi-unit lodging facility which provides room accommodations on a daily basis and generally, but not always, restaurant operations and other "away from home" services such as daily maid service and front desk operations. Includes condominiums if a single owner owns all units and the property is operated as defined here.
Hostel	An inexpensive, limited service facility, often with dormitory-style accommodations, appealing primarily to younger travelers.
Individual Vacation Unit (IVU)	An individual condominium unit (not in a hotel rental operation), house, cabin, villa or cottage with very limited service, often with only basic cleaning supplies provided.
Timeshare	A timeshare is a kind of property ownership that allows guests to acquire a percentage of interest in a hotel unit, condominium/hotel, apartment/hotel, bed and breakfast, individual vacation home etc. for a specific period of time and on a recurring basis. This share could be one week per year (i.e. 1/52 share) or more; some resorts offering one week every other year (1/104 share) or four weeks per year (1/13 share). The survey questionnaire asks for information on the number of units registered as timeshare and units operated as timeshare. The number of units registered includes those that are available for sale as well as those currently in use by visitors. The number of units operated represents the units that have been sold and are used.
Other	Includes motels, lodges, inns, or any other form of property not included in the above definitions.
Owner-Occupied	Units not available for transient visitor use (30 days or less).
