PREFACE

The 2022 Visitor Plant Inventory (VPI) report was produced by Kloninger & Sims Consulting LLC for the Department of Business, Economic Development & Tourism (DBEDT).

As part of the Tourism Research program, DBEDT conducted a survey on statewide visitor accommodations in 2022. This report provides the results of this survey presenting statistics on the number of visitor units, island distribution, type of property and class of rooms. As in previous reports, island and district names were written in proper Hawaiian language orthography. However, individual property names were not written in the same manner unless the words were easily identifiable (i.e., island names).

The Hawai'i Visitors and Convention Bureau (HVCB) first published the Visitor Plant Inventory in 1964 and every year thereafter, except 1995 and 1998. HVCB did not conduct a survey in 1995 and did not publish hard copies of the report in 1998. The Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT) published the VPI reports annually from 1999 through 2008. The Hawaii Tourism Authority conducted the survey from 2009 through 2020. In 2021, the Visitor Plant Inventory report returned to being published by DBEDT.

Many of Hawai'i's visitor accommodations suspended operation for much of 2020 and some of 2021, due to the COVID-19 pandemic and resulting travel restrictions. For the purpose of the VPI, the visitor units in properties that had temporarily suspended operation due to the pandemic were counted in the supply of visitor units. Visitor units in properties that had announced that they would remain closed for an extended period of time to renovate were not included in the VPI count. This is consistent with a long-standing VPI practice of excluding from the inventory any visitor units in properties temporarily closed for renovation.

The 2022 Visitor Plant Inventory report is posted on the DBEDT website:

Table 14: Individually Advertised Vacation Rental Units by County

From 2015 to 2020, the VPI included a Supplemental Analysis of Individually Advertised Vacation Rental Units (“IAVRU”). The data for this analysis were extracted from vacation rental booking platforms such as Airbnb, VRBO and TripAdvisor. The 2022 VPI does not include an analysis of IAVRU, as DBEDT now publishes a monthly tracking study of the vacation rental market that provides supply and demand data on a regular basis.

Because of the difficulty involved in identifying all vacation rental units using traditional survey methodology, the method of extracting data from the booking platforms is believed to provide a better estimate of the supply of vacation rentals. DBEDT’s data contractor for the monthly tracking study of the Hawai’i vacation rental market, Transparent Intelligence, has provided us with the following summary of the average supply of vacation rentals by county for 2021 and 2022.

Island	2022 (Jan to Oct) Supply of Vacation Rental Units	2021 (Jan to Nov) Supply of Vacation Rental Units	Change From 2021
Hawai’i Island	6,943	6,616	4.94%

METHODS AND PROCEDURES: Visitor Plant Inventory

The 2022 Visitor Plant Inventory presents the results of DBEDT's enumeration of visitor accommodations in Hawai'i. Existing visitor accommodations as of May 1, 2022 as well as planned developments and additions to existing developments were catalogued.

Visitor Plant Inventory Survey: Information about transient accommodations was gathered mainly from a survey of existing visitor accommodation properties and management companies. Survey forms were sent to general managers, property managers and other individuals who could provide information about the property. The survey provided information about available units, planned additions and other information presented in this report.

Survey forms were distributed to all properties that participated in the prior year's survey and additional properties identified through the association survey (below) and internet research. Information for hotel and condominium hotel properties that participate in STR, Inc's monthly survey were also cross-verified against STR, Inc's' property database.

Survey forms were distributed via mail, email, and fax. If no response was received, follow-up telephone calls, emails, and/or faxes were made to the property to remind them to complete and return the form. Subsequently, if no response was received after the follow-ups, an Internet search was conducted to determine if the property was still in business and telephone calls were made to verify unit counts and types. If no response was received or no data was found on the Internet, but information was available from prior years (2019, 2020, and 2021), that information was included and so noted. If no response was received from a property and information was available from the association survey, such information was included and so noted. If no survey form was returned and no information was available from previous years or other sources, the property was listed as a non-respondent.

Association of Unit Owners Manager Survey: A survey of Association of Unit Owners ("AOUO") management companies for projects located in resort areas was conducted to gather information about transient rental units located within the project, especially VRU rental houses/villas and VR-condo units. AOUO managers were also asked to identify rental management companies associated with such visitor units and also IVU-condo units which are being marketed by owners, including participation in Visitor Rental By Owner ("VRBO"), Home Away, etc. programs. Any identified rental management companies that were not previously contacted were sent VPI survey forms. Data from this survey was also used to estimate VRU-condo units for a given project.

Contact information included in the State of Hawai'i Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs' AOUO Contact List and Developer's Public Report/Association Biennial Registration database was used in the administration of this survey. Letters and survey forms were distributed via mail, email, and fax and follow-up telephone calls, emails, and/or faxes were also made.

Association Letter: Continued in 2022, this survey's purpose was to gather contact information of associations whose members were transient visitor accommodations in the State of Hawai'i. Letters were sent to these associations to request member accommodation contact information, from which the mailing list was updated and new accommodations were contacted via mailing as described above.

Timeshare Properties: Information on timeshare properties were gathered through the survey questionnaire, which asked for information on the number of units registered as timeshare and units operated as timeshare. The number of units registered included those that were available for sale in a timeshare program (as well as those already sold in such a program). The number of units operated represented the units that were in use. Certain timeshare properties have the ability to split a given registered timeshare unit into more than one operated visitor unit (i.e. it may be possible for a two-bedroom unit to be rented as two keys: one studio unit and one 1-bedroom unit).

As of the 2009 VPI, the listing of timeshare inventory presented in Table 8 has been restated with registered units representing the number of units that were available to be sold as part of a timeshare program and operated units were defined as number of salable keys that were operated for visitor use. In some cases, the number of operating units exceed the number of registered units for a given timeshare property.

The available timeshare units listed in Tables 3 and 5 and their related charts were the total number of operated units. The number of timeshare properties listed in Tables 2 and 4 were the properties with the majority of units classified as timeshare. However, the number of available units listed with the timeshare category included those units that were cross-listed under the other property types. The 2022 Current Visitor Plant Inventory details the unit types available at each property.

Starting with the 2009 VPI, certain timeshare operators reported their inventory counts in terms of individual guest rooms (keys) rather than timeshare units previously reported. For example, a two-bedroom timeshare unit may, depending configuration, be rented separately as two guest rooms: a one-bedroom unit and as a studio unit. This change in reporting procedure resulted in a higher inventory count for certain timeshare properties, but did not necessarily reflect a change in the physical plant.

Cross Verification of Data: Responses from selected hotels, condominium hotels, and timeshare properties were cross verified against Smith Travel Research’s property database and data from the American Resort Development Association.

Responses were also cross-verified against data received from the four counties, including real property classifications, bed and breakfast license data, and transient vacation unit (TVU) license data.

Unit Type Classification: Each unit reported in the survey was assigned a unit type based on DBEDT’s type definitions [page 50]. For the purposes of classification, a given property may include more than one unit type. Historically, type classifications were self-selected by the respondent but research has shown that the response was not always consistent with DBEDT’s type definitions. In such cases, the unit type was corrected for the 2022 VPI report.

Notably, many respondents classified their units as condominium hotel due to the units’ location within a condominium building, but did not have the services or amenities included in DBEDT’s definition for a condominium hotel. These units were reclassified as individual vacation units.

Property Type Classification: Classification of property type (Tables 2 & 4) for properties with more than one unit type was determined by the majority of units on that property. Historically property type was self-selected by the respondent but research has shown that the response was not always consistent with DBEDT’s type definitions [page 50].

Planned New Developments: Information about planned new developments was gathered with assistance from the four county Planning Offices. The information was reprinted here and includes projects and developments that have achieved some level of jurisdictional approval. That was to say, these developments were a step beyond the preliminary stages of development and have some “official” standing as planned developments.

DEFINITIONS

Type of Units

An individual property may include more than one type of unit. If a property has more than one unit type, the majority unit type was used to determine the property type for the purposes of this report. Units were categorized as follows:

Apartment / Hotel (Apt/Hotel): Visitor accommodations units typically located in low-rise apartment-style buildings and available for short-term rental. Units may have kitchens and laundry facilities. Front desk operations and housekeeping service are limited and sometimes non-existent.

Bed & Breakfast (B&B): A lodging facility with a limited number of guest units, available for short-term rental. Services include breakfast in the daily rental rate. Typical bed and breakfast facilities may be small, quaint inns or family homes.

Condominium Hotel (Condo Hotel): A multi-unit property legally classified as a condominium with each unit individually deeded. Generally, units are collectively placed into transient hotel rental operations, offering most of the services of a hotel, such as daily housekeeping service and front desk operations. Condominium hotel units are larger than hotel units and include studios and one- to three-bedroom units, with kitchen and laundry facilities, available for transient use on short-term rental basis (30 days or less).

Hotel: A multi-unit lodging facility that provides room accommodations on a short-term rental basis. Services often include a pool, restaurant operations, and other “away from home” services such as daily housekeeping service and front desk operations.

Hostels: An inexpensive, limited-service lodging facility, often with dormitory-style accommodations. They are available for short-term rental and are frequently used by younger travelers.

Vacation Rental Unit (VRU): An individual vacation rental unit available for visitor use on a short-term basis (30 days or less). VRs usually include kitchens, laundry facilities, and parking garages. Services are very limited although some may include some housekeeping service.

- Vacation Rental in a Condominium Hotel (VR-Condo): A condominium hotel unit available for visitor use on a short-term basis. VR-Condos are not rented or managed by the condominium hotel management, but are available through individual owners, property managers, or Internet agencies.
- Vacation Rental House (VR-House): A single-family dwelling property available for visitor use on a short-term basis. May be a house, townhouse, duplex, multiplex, cabin, villa or cottage, where the owner does not reside on the property.
- Vacation Rental Other (VR-Other): Vacation Rental Units located in other types of properties not mentioned above. Includes private and shared rooms for visitor use and other non-traditional accommodations.

Timeshare: A timeshare is a type of property ownership in which guests acquire a shared interest in a hotel or condominium hotel unit for a specific period of time and on a recurring basis. Timeshare ownership is typically defined by intervals (a set number of days and nights of annual use) or points (a “currency” that represents ownership and is used to establish value for seasons, unit sizes, and resort locations).

“Operated” timeshare units are those that have been sold and are currently (as of May 1) available for visitor use. “Registered” units include operated units and units that are not yet operating as visitor rentals.

Some timeshare units can be rented as one or two units as their design allows a single unit to be divided into two complete sections and operated as two units by securing a door between the sections. The number of keys operated as timeshare reflect the number of distinct keys available for each unit.

Other: Includes lodges, inns, or any other form of property not included in the above definitions.

Owner-Occupied: Units not available for transient visitor use (30 days or less).

Not for visitor use: Includes owner-occupied units, residential rentals only, and units under remodeling.

Class of Units

The Visitor Plant Inventory survey also included questions about the class of units at each property. The subsequent tables show the percent of each class of units available by island. Units were classified as follows:

Class	Price Range (Rack Rate)
Budget	Up to $100 per night
Standard	$101 to $250 per night
Deluxe	$251 to $500 per night
Luxury	Over $500 per night
