A NEW VISION

Aloha pumehana kākou,

We share this annual report for 2018 with you, our partners in the Hawai'i State Legislature.

Our team values your support, appreciates your input and welcomes your views on how the Hawai'i Tourism Authority can better serve the needs of the tourism industry, as well as communities and residents on all islands.

We are moving forward into 2019 under new leadership determined to inject a re-energized, yet practical, approach to fulfilling the responsibilities of HTA and the management of tourism for the State of Hawai'i.

We will always stay true to our mission: To strategically manage Hawai'i tourism in a sustainable manner consistent with economic goals, cultural values, preservation of natural resources, community desires and visitor industry needs.

We will work with our contractors to market and promote the iconic brands of our islands to the world while maintaining a sustainable environment for both residents and visitors.

The future of Hawai'i, both as a home for families to blossom and for visitors to desire, begins at the community level. Healthy communities translate into happy residents, which, in turn, makes the visitor experience even more meaningful.

We welcome the opportunity to partner with the Legislature in encouraging tourism to flourish while doing all we can to help make Hawai'i's communities healthier and happier for all to enjoy.

Me ka ha'aha'a,

The Hawai'i Tourism Authority

OVERVIEW OF THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY

The Hawai'i Tourism Authority was established in 1998 through a legislative act to serve as the state's lead agency supporting tourism, Hawai'i's largest industry.

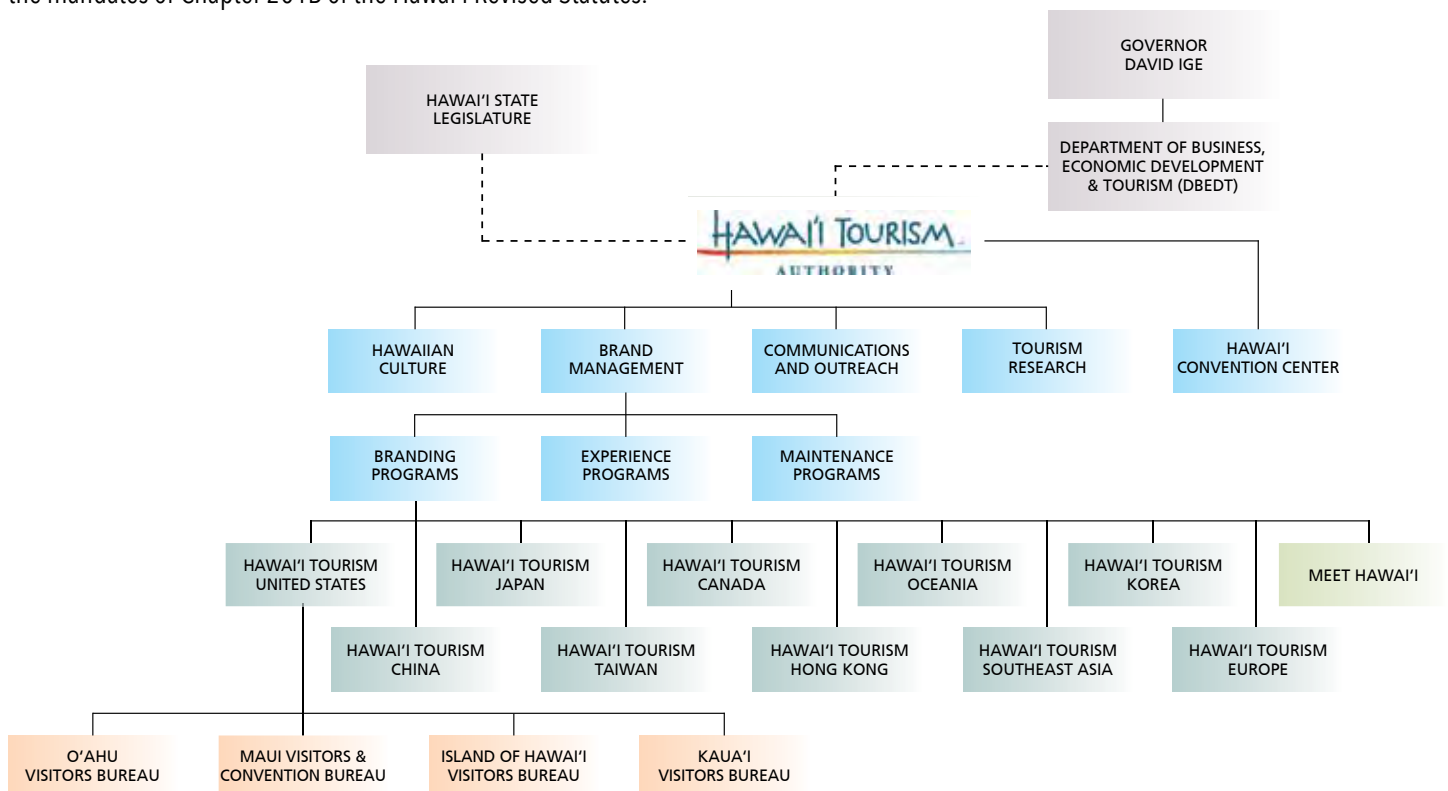

The same act also established the Tourism Special Fund, which utilizes a set percentage of Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT) collections assessed on hotels, vacation rentals and other accommodations to fund HTA's comprehensive marketing and destination management initiatives in support of Hawai'i's tourism industry.

Among its responsibilities, HTA is charged with:

- Meeting the goals of its Five-Year Strategic Plan covering the years 2016 through 2020.
- Setting policy and direction from a statewide perspective about the management of tourism for the Hawaiian Islands.
- Enhancing the well-being of Hawai'i's communities through initiatives focusing on responsible tourism.
- Supporting programs and initiatives perpetuating the Hawaiian culture, protecting Hawai'i's natural resources, and presenting community festivals and events statewide.
- Managing programs and activities to sustain a healthy tourism economy for the state.
- Developing and overseeing implementation of the state's tourism marketing plans and programs.
- Serving as Hawai'i's official source for information on tourism market research.
- Coordinating tourism-related planning and promotional outreach activities with stakeholders in the public and private sectors.
- Encouraging distribution of visitors throughout the Hawaiian Islands to achieve an improved balance statewide.
- Informing the tourism industry and general public with timely updates during emergency situations.
- Fostering greater collaboration with other state agencies.

OPERATIONS

HTA is administratively attached to the Hawai'i State Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT). HTA's president and chief executive officer reports directly to HTA's board of directors and is responsible for assisting the board in its responsibility to fulfill the mandates of Chapter 201B of the Hawai'i Revised Statutes.

MEASURES OF SUCCESS

The Hawai'i Tourism Authority's Five-Year Strategic Plan, covering the years 2016 to 2020, serves as a guide for achieving short- and long-term goals of success based on research data, marketing intelligence, input from stakeholders and collaboration with industry associations. The following targets are proposed as a benchmark to measure HTA's success in realizing the goals of the strategic plan.

TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX COLLECTIONS

The collection of the Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT) and distribution of its revenues help strengthen the state's economy while also supporting public services provided by the four island counties that enhance the quality of life for residents statewide.

The TAT revenues are utilized by the City and County of Honolulu, County of Maui, County of Hawai'i and County of Kaua'i for essential purposes, including public education, public safety, infrastructure improvements and maintenance of park facilities.

In fiscal year (FY) 2018, TAT collections totaled $554.9 million, an increase of 9.0 percent compared to the $508.4 million collected in FY 2017. The state's General Fund received $315.2 million in TAT revenues in FY 2018.

The allocation of TAT revenues to the Tourism Special Fund and Convention Center Enterprise Special Fund was $82 million and $26.5 million, respectively, in FY 2018.

A total of $103 million in TAT revenues was allocated to be shared by the four island counties. In addition, $23.6 million was distributed to the Mass Transit Special Fund, $3 million to the Hawai'i State Department of Land and Natural Resources, and $1.5 million to the Turtle Bay Conservation Easement Special Fund.

IMPROVE THE INTEGRITY OF THE DESTINATION

Ho'i hou i ka mole.

Return to the taproot.

Just as the taproot is the source of life for the healthy tree with strong branches that spread wide, so, too, is Hawaiian culture and the natural environment the source of life for Hawai'i's tourism future. They must always be nurtured to flourish.

HAWAIIAN CULTURE

Native Hawaiian culture is at the heart of the Hawaiian Islands' distinctiveness as a place and a people. There has been a renaissance in the usage of the Hawaiian language and Native Hawaiian practitioners increasingly have assumed more prominent responsibilities in the tourism industry. NATURAL RESOURCES

The Hawaiian Islands are among the most ecologically diverse collection of islands on Earth and home to 27 of 38 Holdridge global life zones, which make it the single most habitat-rich location worldwide. The beauty of the Hawaiian Islands is unsurpassed and its fragility equally so. HTA is committed to supporting programs that protect Hawai'i's natural resources for generations to come.

HTA also plays a significant role in supporting community-led environmental initiatives through the Aloha 'Āina Program and other efforts directly benefiting Hawai'i's natural environment.

2018 HIGHLIGHTS

HTA supports projects and programs statewide to address community concerns, promote increased interaction between residents and visitors, encourage a greater understanding about the tourism industry's value among residents, and foster opportunities to create economic benefits within communities. These community-based initiatives are designed to share unique, authentic experiences with visitors and enhance their interaction with residents. Five events received funding from HTA's Signature Incubator Program.
- Partnered with the County of Maui's Office of Economic Development and the International Festivals and Events Association to offer the Certified Festival and Event Executive Core Curriculum Programs, which support event organizers by enhancing their knowledge of marketing, management and operations. In 2018, 96 festival and event organizers earned the distinction of being named a Certified Festival and Event Associate.

BRAND MANAGEMENT PLAN

HTA's Brand Management Plan describes the objectives, strategies, actions and evaluation approach set forth to achieve the goals outlined in its Five-Year Strategic Plan (2016-2020).

This document framed the efforts for 2018 in addressing the needs of Hawai'i's tourism industry and ensuring a continuity of business to maintain economic stability and prosperity for the Hawaiian Islands.

Initially, Hawai'i Revised Statutes Section 201B-6 required HTA to prepare a tourism marketing plan as a single comprehensive document, including in the plan its brand management efforts, target markets, performance goals and targets, and guidelines for programs implemented through contracts with destination marketing organizations.

During the 2014 legislative session, amendments were made to the statute for clarity and organization of the chapter, which called for replacing "marketing and promotion" with "brand management" where appropriate. For this reason, HTA prepares an annual brand management plan rather than a marketing plan.

The brand management plan includes detailed execution plans for brand marketing – including the individual brand management plans by major market area – as well as HTA's product, communications and research programs. It also presents an operational plan that organizes HTA for success.

In 2018, additional services were contracted to collect performance data on projects to assist HTA with program evaluations.

MAJOR MARKET MANAGEMENT

Hawai'i's tourism industry continued to drive the state's economic success in 2018, with record high totals for visitor spending, tax revenue generation, visitor arrivals and trans-Pacific air seats serving the Hawaiian Islands. Moreover, tourism continued to be Hawai'i's leading provider of jobs, supporting the livelihood and quality of life of residents and families statewide.

HTA's Major Market Management program aims to promote the destination by increasing demand through collaboration with industry partners statewide and in key global markets. While a primary goal is to increase visitor expenditures throughout the state, HTA also supports programs and initiatives to help perpetuate Hawaiian culture, preserve the environment and present festivals, events and projects that showcase the traditions and character of Hawai'i's communities.

HTA contracts marketing organizations – collectively known as its Global Marketing Team – to promote the Hawaiian Islands worldwide. The Global Marketing Team's coverage of major market areas in 2018 included the United States, Canada, Japan, China, Hong Kong, Korea, Taiwan, Oceania (Australia and New Zealand), Europe (Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Switzerland and Italy) and Southeast Asia (Malaysia, Singapore, Thailand and Indonesia).

The Global Marketing Team plays a critical role in implementing strategies that meet HTA's strategic objectives to attract high-spending visitors and increase their participation in activities during their time in the Islands. Marketing programs and tactics to sustain and enhance awareness of Hawai'i as an ideal destination for leisure and business travel differ in each major market, but typically encompass public relations, advertising, promotions, trade marketing, MCI (meetings, conventions and incentives) marketing, education and training, stakeholder communications, and industry partner relations.

O'AHU

O'ahu continued to draw the majority of the state's domestic and international visitors in 2018. Through September, visitor spending reached $6.21 billion (+9.4% over the same period in 2017) fueled by a growth in average daily spending (+2.7% to $202 per visitor) and increase in visitor arrivals (+4.6% to 4,478,639), marked by increases in both domestic (+7.3%) and international (+1.5%) arrivals.

The source markets comprising most of O'ahu's total visitor count were the U.S. West (29.7%), Japan (24.7%), U.S. East (21.1%), Oceania (6.7%), Korea (3.9%), Canada (3.6%) and China (2.5%).

AIR ACCESS

Total trans-Pacific air seats serving O'ahu was 6,240,168 through September, a year-over-year increase of 2.5 percent. Of that total, 3,574,473 (57.3%) seats were from domestic markets, with 2,665,695 (42.7%) seats from international markets.

In May, Hawaiian Airlines expanded its service to southern California by launching daily nonstop flights between Long Beach and Honolulu. United Airlines increased its California service to Honolulu as well, adding more flights from Los Angeles and San Francisco in December.

Air Canada increased its flights between Vancouver, British Columbia, and Honolulu from daily to twice daily during the winter months, beginning in October.

Sun Country Airlines entered the Hawai'i market for the first time, launching seasonal summer service between Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Honolulu, with a Los Angeles stopover, and seasonal winter nonstop service from Portland, Oregon, to Honolulu.

American Airlines expanded its air service to Honolulu with the addition of seasonal flights from Chicago, Illinois, starting in December.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

HTA supported 35 community nonprofit organizations on O'ahu dedicated to perpetuating Hawaiian culture, protecting natural resources and showcasing community events.

Funding was provided to 14 Kūkulu Ola Program recipients committed to strengthening a broader understanding and appreciation of the Hawaiian culture, six Aloha 'Āina Program recipients focused on stewardship and managing Hawai'i's natural environment, and 15 Community Enrichment Program recipients for major community-based festivals, events and year-round programs.

ISLAND OF HAWAI'I

The island of Hawai'i produced strong visitor spending and arrival numbers during the first half of 2018. This helped offset a downturn in travel bookings that occurred following the eruption of Kīlauea volcano, which began on May 3 and generated lava flows in the lower Puna district that continued for three months.

Through September, the island of Hawai'i reported an increase in visitor spending to $1.84 billion (+5.1% over the same period in 2017), with visitor arrivals also up slightly to 1,321,174 (+0.6%). Average visitor spending also grew to $188 (+2.4%) on a daily basis.

The island of Hawai'i's visitor count was primarily from the U.S. West (41.2%), U.S. East (27.1%) and Japan (10.5%) markets. Following these were arrivals from Canada (5.6%), China (2.9%), Oceania (2.9%) and Europe (2.8%).

AIR ACCESS

Total trans-Pacific air seats serving the island of Hawai'i increased by 34.5 percent through September – the highest year-over-year increase of all the islands – to 1,022,852 seats. Of that total, 980,509 (95.9%) air seats served Ellison Onizuka Kona International Airport at Keāhole and 42,343 (4.1%) served Hilo International Airport.

United Airlines added nearly 113,000 air seats to the island of Hawai'i in 2018 with expanded nonstop service from Los Angeles and San Francisco, California, and Denver, Colorado, to Kona, and expanded service from Los Angeles to Hilo.

In March, Hawaiian Airlines expanded its service with the launch of daily nonstop flights between Los Angeles and Kona. Air Canada increased seasonal service between Vancouver, British Columbia, and Kona to four weekly flights in December. That same month, Alaska Airlines launched nonstop service from Sacramento, California, to Kona.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

HTA supported 20 nonprofit groups and community organizations on the island of Hawai'i dedicated to perpetuating Hawaiian culture, protecting natural resources and showcasing community events.

Funding was provided to six Kūkulu Ola Program recipients committed to strengthening a broader understanding and appreciation of the Hawaiian culture, five Aloha 'Āina Program recipients focused on stewardship and managing Hawai'i's natural environment, and nine Community Enrichment Program recipients for major community-based festivals, events and year-round programs.

The U.S. mainland is Hawai'i's largest source travel market, accounting for more than 60 percent of total visitors to the Hawaiian Islands. Results from both the U.S. West and U.S. East markets were strong through September.

The U.S. West market generated $4.97 billion in visitor spending (+10.5%) and 3,140,814 visitor arrivals (+9.6%), while the U.S. East market generated $3.54 billion in visitor spending (+9.4%) and 1,665,821 visitor arrivals (+8.4%).

JAPAN

Japan is Hawai'i's largest international travel market, comprising 16 percent of total visitor arrivals to the state. Increases in airlift by low-cost carriers to Honolulu through Osaka, and the addition of nonstop flights between Tokyo and Kona, helped Hawai'i maintain healthy airlift from Japan in 2018.

Visitor arrivals from Japan began to decline in July in response to the Kīlauea volcano eruption on the island of Hawai'i, which began on May 3. The downturn necessitated implementation of an emergency marketing plan by Hawai'i Tourism Japan (HTJ) to help support the island's recovery.

Travel bookings and visitor arrivals were also affected by Tropical Storm Jebi, which struck western Japan in early September and forced the closure of Kansai International Airport in Osaka for two weeks. Additionally, the devastation caused by a powerful earthquake on the island of Hokkaido on September 6 had a major impact on travel from the region for several weeks.

Hawai'i Tourism Oceania (HTO) encouraged travel from Australia and New Zealand to the Hawaiian Islands in 2018 by maintaining strong industry partnerships and implementing "always-on" marketing campaigns.

Despite challenges raised by the softening of the Australian dollar and New Zealand dollar against the U.S. dollar, increased airlift from New Zealand resulted in an overall boost in travelers from Oceania to Hawai'i.

Hawaii Tourism Korea (HTK) reported that air seat capacity from Korea to Honolulu was up 3.5 percent through September year-over-year. However, due to low-cost carrier Jin Air unexpectedly suspending flights between October 28 and December 28, along with Korean Air and Asiana Airlines reducing service in the fourth quarter, air seat capacity declined 8.6 percent for all of 2018.

The students were then invited to showcase the prototypes they developed for solving the challenges in a summit expo.
- Hosted the Aloha Reception, featuring 20 Hawai'i chefs from throughout the Islands presenting dishes they created inspired by Hawai'i's multitude of cultures and island-grown ingredients.
- Hosted sessions addressing subjects important to maintaining a balance between tourism's success and community concerns, including illegal vacation rentals and the utilization of alternative accommodations.

2019 FOCUS

- Continuing to develop the Global Tourism Summit to address industry issues, forward-looking subjects and topics critical to the future of tourism in the Hawaiian Islands and globally.
